PANAMA.

Considerable Dissatisfaction with the New Regime—American Interference Not Relished.

PANAMA, June 16.—The new regime in Panama, a State Government by direct Federal nomination, sustained by Federal bayonets, and which entered this city by the consent of the American Government and American forces on the Isthmus, is condemned by local opinion, both native and foreign, as arbitrary and oppressive, and nothing less than a dictatorship, intensely illiberal and absolutely irresponsible. This government, when it began its rule, professed that it came to effect a regeneration on the Isthmus and to restore the reign of law and order. One month has been quite sufficient to convince the public of the empty character of these promises. A forced loan was one of its first acts, the sum being fixed at $100,000. This was assessed in such a manner that the poor were called upon to pay as much as the rich the humble householder or shopkeeper paying the same amount as the opulent merchant or the millionaire banker. So badly were the quotas distributed that only about $49,000 was collected. This was not sufficient for war purposes, and now the rulers propose a new scheme, a war contribution, the amount of which is fixed at $300,000, which is to be levied on those who favored and those who assisted the rebellion and those who have been obdurate in refusing payment of the previous loan. This measure means the confiscation of all properties of revolutionary sympathizers or participants, and in three or four blocks property to the value of at least half the amount of the contribution may be obtained. The new government has also threatened the suppression of the Star and Herald, the only independent newspaper in the place, because it presumed to criticise certain acts. Rumors of revolution were current about the city recently, but they had no foundation in fact. A number of arrests were made, however, and half a dozen persons are languishing in the offensive and filthy prisons of the city, while several others have been ordered to leave the city and the Isthmus.

The latest victims of the fever at Colon are Charles Cheney and Byron Morgan of Rutland, Vt., the former a conductor and the latter a locomotive engineer on the Panama railroad. Two of the carpenters who recently came from New York to work on the wharves of Colon have also died of the same disease.

An Altercation with Cow Boys Results in a Massacre.

DENVER, Col. June 25.—The following particulars of the Indian troubles in Southern Colorado have just been received:

On Saturday evening a party of Indians camped on Beaver Creek, a tributary of Dolores river, 60 miles west of Durango. After a time they got into an altercation with some cow boys about seven horses which the latter claimed that the Indians were trying to steal. One Indian ran to a tepee in which were three other bucks, a squaw and papoose and a boy. The cow boys followed and opened fire on the Indians in the tepee, killing all but the boy, who was wounded but got away.

At 1 o'clock that night in Montezuma valley, 20 miles distant from the scene of the murder of the Indians, a man named Genther sat in his house reading. His children were all asleep and his wife was preparing to retire. Suddenly the woman heard a noise, and running out of the house discovered the building to be on fire. Genther

THE MEXICAN CRISIS.

Fears that the National Bank Will Collapse.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 25 via Galveston. There was a protracted meeting yesterday of the Directors of the National Bank of Mexico, at which Senor Dublan, the Minister of Finance, was present and interrogated as to whether any arrangement could be made with the Government whereby the bank might be exempted from the operations of the law decreed on Monday last. The Minister of Finance replied that nothing could be done as the law had been decreed by the full Cabinet, presided over by the President of the Republic. The National Bank is badly embarrassed, and, it is predicted, cannot survive this shock. The London Bank is quite unaffected by the law. There is talk that the National Bank, the Central Railroad and the National Railroad will join in a common protest to the Government, but not until their attorneys meet can it be decided upon what ground this can be accomplished. The National Bank's capital is largely held in France, where it is backed by the Franco-Egyptian Bank, and rumors are current that the French Government might make a diplomatic protest in behalf of the bank. A question has also been raised regarding the attitude of the United States should American railroads be seriously embarrassed. Minister Jackson is in Toluca, where his wife was ill, and could not be interviewed by interested Americans.

The large German mercantile houses here have bought up Custom House certificates at a discount, and the point has been raised in German circles that the home Government is likely to make diplomatic inquiry why these certificates have been discredited. Regarding the question of possible interference by the United States Government, it is said in legal circles here that the American railroads are Mexican corporations under the terms of their respective concessions and cannot appeal to Washington. The immediate effect of the financial coup d'etat here must be beneficial. The Government will have more ready money at command now that 37 per cent. of the revenues have been released from the burden of subsidies. A few weeks ago the Government had but little money and could not pay its employes and business here was greatly depressed. The merchants now look for improved trade and are likely to order more extensively.

A SMART SWINDLER.

A Gallant Captain whose use of Bogus Checks has got him into Trouble in New York.

NEW YORK, June 25. There have been accumulating in Inspector Byrnes' office for a number of months past many complaints from tradesmen in this city who asserted that they had been swindled out of money and goods by a plausible adventurer who represented himself as Captain Daniel S. Ward, the commander of the steamer Eclipse plying between this port and New Orleans, and a former Captain in the Confederate army. His swindles showed boldness and ingenuity, and careful merchants were taken in by the manner and bearing of the gallant captain. He was described as a typical Southerner, over six feet in height, long limbed and thin and of a sallow complexion. The attention of Inspector Byrnes was called to the arrest on Monday for disorderly conduct by Patrolman Frazer of the Broadway squad of a man answering that description, who had been quite sufficient to convince the public of the empty character of these promises. A forced loan was one of its first acts, the sum being fixed at $100,000. This was assessed in such a manner that the poor were called upon to pay as much as the rich the humble householder or shopkeeper paying the same amount as the opulent merchant or the millionaire banker. MAINE.

Proprietor of the Hotel North, Augusta, Robbed.

AUGUSTA, June 25.—Last night between the hour of 11.30 and some time in the morning, a burglar, by crawling through the transom, entered the chamber of Royal Quimby, Esq., the proprietor of Hotel North. While that gentleman was asleep he secured from his clothing his pocket book, containing $600 in cash, a diamond pin valued at $150, and a set of costly cuff buttons. Mr. Quimby's keys and the formular for his safe combination were also obtained. Proceeding to the office the robber took $7 in change from the money drawer and opened the safe, but was unable to unlock the small steel chest therein, and which contained $700. This robbery was accomplished while the watchman was lighting a fire in the range. The watchman returned and was summoned to an unoccupied room in the upper story at about 5 o'clock this morning by the ringing of the bell. While the watchman was answering the bell the burglar is supposed to have escaped. There is a clue to the perpetrator.

THE VETERANS.

How They Passed the Day in the City.

Report of the Encampment Meeting in City Hall.

Ex-Gov. Selden Connor Senior Vice Commander.

Officers of the National Relief Corps Elected.

The Encampment was called to order in pursuance to adjournment at a little after 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Comrade J. L. Bennett, of Illinois, presented a series of resolutions from the Department of Illinois, in substance as follows:

The first was a resolution communicating the fact that the sum of $470 had been raised by that department for the purpose of erecting a suitable monument to the memory of Comrade Stevens, the founder of the Grand Army of the Republic. That sum not being sufficient, the department of Illinois requested that the National Encampment take the matter in hand, and by suitable action obtain contributions from the order generally throughout the United States for that purpose.

Referred to the committee on resolutions.

The second resolution requested the National Encampment to adopt as a memorial badge to be worn on Decoration Day, a black ribbon, 1½x6 inches, with the words "In Memoriam" and the Grand Army badge suspended therefrom in silver, with or without the number of the Post.

Referred to the committee on resolutions.

The third resolution was a request to the National Encampment from the Department of Illinois, to take official action by which the fact that Comrade Stevens was the founder of the Grand Army of the Republic, should be recognized.

Referred to the committee on Commander-in-chief's address.

Comrade Wagner, of Pennsylvania, from the committee on the order of the Sons of Veterans, made a report, in which it was stated that the committee had examined the constitutions, rules and regulations of the several bodies calling themselves Sons of Veterans, as heretofore existing and as now amended; that they found much that was commendable, and many things which did not impress them favorably, and which should be changed. The committee commended the organization and its purposes, but doubted the wisdom of any official recognition of that order by the Grand Army of the Republic, or any supervisory interest in it; and offered a resolution rescinding all former resolutions giving official recognition to that organization. The report was received and the resolution adopted.

Comrade Evans, from the committee on report of the Inspector-in-chief, presented his report, in which some recommendations were made as to the procuring of more complete returns in that department in the future. The report was adopted.

Comrade E. S. Dodd of Ohio, at the request of the Commander-in-Chief, read the following despatch in reply to the resolutions telegraphed to Gen. Grant:

MT. MCGREGOR, N. Y., June 24, 1885.

Gen. Grant directs me, in reply to your despatch, to tender through you to each one of the three hundred thousand veterans, his comrades, now represented at Portland, his thanks for their interest in his health and welfare. Gen. Grant wishes to take this occasion to also thank them for their splendid services which have resulted in giving freedom to a race, peace to a continent, and a haven to the oppressed of the world.

[Signed] F. D. GRANT.

The reading of the despatch was received with tremendous applause, followed by three loud cheers for Gen. Grant.

On motion it was ordered that the despatch be spread upon the Journal of the National Encampment.

Comrade Patch of Massachusetts, in an eloquent speech, presented to the Encampment on behalf of Comrade H. W. Berthung of Post 33 of Pennsylvania, a large crayon portrait of Gen. Grant, with the request from the donors that it be suitably framed by the Encampment, and thereafter presented to Mrs. Grant. A resolution to that effect was adopted by a rising vote.

Comrade Grosvenor of Ohio offered a resolution instructing the Council of Administration to insist upon definite contracts for transportation rates to the 20th National Encampment, and authorizing the Council, in case a just and fair contract could not be made, to change the place of the Encampment, and make arrangements accordingly. After some little discussion the resolution was adopted.

Comrade Nones of Delaware offered a resolution appropriating one or two hundred dollars for the immediate relief of Comrade Bicker, one of the grand old nurses who accompanied the army of the Tennessee in all its wanderings, and is now in destitute circumstances in California. The amount, on amendment, was raised to $500, and the resolution as amended passed. During the debate it was stated that Gen. Logan had asserted that the very first bill he should introduce in Congress at its next session would be one to pension the old lady.

Comrade Hall of Maine offered the following resolution concerning the death of Past Department Commander Winsor B. Smith of this State, who died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock from the rupture of a blood vessel, occurring from the exertions in the march of Tuesday:

Whereas, Comrade W. B Smith, Past Commander of the Department of Maine, member of the National Encampment, died in this city at 4 o'clock this morning from rupture of a blood vessel;

Resolved, That it is with profound grief that the Encampment receives these tidings, giving visible emphasis in the midst of our joyous meeting to the sad fact so often presented, that as comrades and as an organization, our days are speeding to their close;

Resolved, That the sympathies of this National Encampment be hereby extended and entered upon its minutes, and a copy of these resolution be forwarded to the family of our deceased comrade.

Comrade Barnum of New York, moved as an amendment that a memorial page be inserted in the proceedings. The resolutions, as amended, was adopted.

A resolution from the Department of New York, changing the time of holding Department Encampments between the first day of January and the first day of June was reported adversely upon by the committee on rules and regulations, and the report was adopted.

On a recommendation of the committee on rules and regulations, to whom the subject had been referred, that reports be made semi annual instead of quarterly, the encampment voted adversely.

The same committee reported back an amendment to the rules by which the installation of officers could be made public.

During the afternoon, Gen. J. S. Black, the commissioner of pensions, made his appearance in the room and was greeted with three cheers. He was escorted to the platform, and spoke as follows:

Comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic: It is with a heart filled with varied emotions that I greet you today, in fraternity, charity and loyalty. I look over the faces of this audience, and I see men who with bare sabres, rode after Sheridan, and with trailed muskets fought beneath Meade, under Sheridan and Logan, [Applause] and who making the resistless column of victory, marched under Grant from the beginning to the end, in the most illustrious war that ever set the banners of liberty high advanced upon the progress road of humanity. I greet you, and I thank you for this greeting. I know that as the winters of age are falling upon these heads, there is spring eternal within their hearts, the ever flowing fountain of loyalty, whose waters, unembittered, are sweetened by pleasure and made brighter by fraternity. I know that this vast audience, not only splendid in its personnel, but splendid in that which it represents, does not misapprehend its high mission; does not misapprehend that its object is to add new and ever burning laurels to the brow of the American volunteer soldier, and regular too, wherever his name may be borne by the winds around the globe. A set of men who appreciate all that belongs to victory, who claim nothing of spoil. Comrades, I thank you again for this pleasure of meeting you face to face. Allow me to say in conclusion that I belong to the working contingent of the Grand Army of the Republic. [Applause]. I sincerely hope that except as I meet you now, I may never have occasion officially to know you, but if I should I will do the best I can. [Great applause].

The committee on the address of the Commander-in-chief made the following report:

To the National Encampment G. A. R:

Your committee to which was referred the address of the commander-in-chief respectfully report as follows:

The work of the year evidences the fidelity and ability of the Commander-in-chief. Despite the Presidential contest, the depression of business, and the rapid growth of the Grand Army in former years, rivaling all other organizations whether civic or military; yet under his splendid leadership our numbers have been increased and the high character of the order fully sustained. The earnest zeal which has inspired him to do his whole duty is illustrated by the extent of his visits, ranging from Maine to the Golden Gate and including all departments except three. These visitations have been characterized by wisdom, modesty, zeal and economy, and the results that followed fully justify his action. Wherever he has gone greater interest in the order has not only been manifested, but the respect shown him indicates the high esteem in which he is held as commander-in-chief, and the personal regard which is entertained for him as a comrade and a gentleman. For his efficient and kindly management of all the affairs of the Grand Army, he is worthy of the hearty and sincere thanks of this encampment, and it is recommended that the council of administration be instructed to procure and present to him a suitable testimonial as a token of our recognition of his eminent service in behalf of the Grand Army.

Your committee commend the address of the Commander-in-Chief to your careful perusal as a thoughtful and suggestive paper. His recognition of Comrade Stephenson as the originator of the Grand Army is timely and eminently proper, while the mention of the hero of Appomator, "whose heart grandly responded when duty called and melted in compassion when mercy pleaded", is as beautifully expressed as the sentiment is true and patriotic. We commend also his words respecting Memorial Day and the introduction of politics into our order. It should be the endeavor of every comrade to cultivate the one and avoid the other. Memorial Day is the choicest in the calendar of the Grand Army—a day of sweet remembrances, dear to every loyal heart, and any violation of its sacredness by making it the occasion for frivolity and amusement, such as characterize the Fourth of July, should be treated as an indignity to the comrades, who died that their country might live. In a similar spirit should be treated any attempt to inject politics into our order. It is the high privilege of soldiers, in upholding the great principles for which they struggled and sacrificed so much, always to act as their judgment may dictate; but as comrades of the Grand Army we should scorn to degrade our order or lower its standard by using it for purposes other than those which come legitimately within the spirit and letter of its governing regulations.

The careful and economical administration of Commander-in-chief Kountz has materially increased the funds of the National Encampment. This is a cause of great congratulation, for it behooves the G. A. R., now in its prime, carefully to husband its resources, that in its declining years it may not suffer the inconveniences of poverty or become in any sense an object of public charity. Your committee recommends that $10,000 of the amount now in the hands of the Quartermaster General, be invested in State and municipal securities, or in first mortgage bonds, upon real estate worth not less than three times the amount thus loaned, the investment to be made under the direction of the incoming Commander-in-chief and the new Council of Administration.

Attention is called to the increased number of members suspended during the year. These suspensions cheapen the order, setting adrift in the community a class of men who know its countersign, possess its badge and represent its membership, without having sufficient interest in its welfare to perform its duties. The reasons assigned by the Commander-in-chief for this delinquency are generous and honorable to the kindliness of his heart, and we respectfully submit that wherever inability to pay dues is known as the real cause of such failure it should be regarded a privilege as well as a duty to remit them. But it is undoubtedly true, as the Commander-in-chief asserts, that the very large number suspended, more than 54,000 or nearly 20 per cent of the entire membership, is due to negligence and inefficiency of post officers. For this there is but one remedy, the election of Post Commanders pledged especially to discharge the duties imposed upon them relating to membership who shall also be clothed with the power of appointing Post Quartermasters. The Commander-in-chief as well as each department commander is charged with the appointment of their Quartermasters, and it is believed that the same privilege should be accorded to post commanders. It is recommended therefore, that Article VI, Section 1 be so amended.

Attention is especially called to the matter of badges. Unless made of captured rebel cannon, a badge is a lie, and the post officer or other comrade who procures them from any source other than through national headquarters merits court-martial and prompt dismissal. Of late, twelve bronze rebel cannon now being used for badges the history of their manufacture, service and capture is well known, and as a simple and beautiful relic of the war, therefore, the badges made from them should be eagerly sought, and are worth many times the price paid. In this connection it is recommended that during the coming year the Commander-in-chief be requested to give this matter his individual attention, to the end that the manufacture of spurious badges be stopped, and that the parties now engaged in obtaining money under false pretenses by their sale, be properly dealt with under the law. It is recommended also that in making their inspections, inspecting officers be charged with the duty of closely examining every badge for the determining of its genuineness.

In the appointment of special committees to confer with the authorities of the Catholic church and other denominations who were opposed to our order under the impression that it was a secret organization, the Commander-in-chief has exercised good judgment, and the success of the committee in removing a serious obstacle to the admission to our ranks of thousands of deserving soldiers ought to be an occasion of joy to every comrade. There is not in the whole world outside of the Christian church an association founded on such broad and liberal principles as that of the Grand Army of the Republic. Under its folds of its banners are gathered men of all creeds and nationalities. Lessons of mental forbearance and toleration have been learned through bitter experience and the ties which bind those who for four years fought to maintain the integrity of the nation, cannot easily be severed on this side of the grave. We therefore recommend earnestly the heartiest endorsement of the encampment for the labor of the Commander-in-chief in the settlement of this important question. The reference of the Commander-in-chief to the Veterans Rights Union, accompanied by his hearty endorsement, must meet with an earnest response from every comrade loyal to this organization and alive to the interests of the rights of the veteran soldier, decreed to him by statute, but which for many years, have practically proven a dead letter. It is timely and pertinent and it behooves this encampment to give to this portion of his report their emphatic endorsement as the representatives of nearly 300,000 veterans organized to protect the interests of the old soldier.

Your committee heartily concurs with all that has been said of the work and aims of the National Relief Corps. It was a grand undertaking and has been carried out in the grandest manner. Side by side with the Grand Army it has pressed forward, accomplishing in the name of faith and love and charity what comrades could not have done without its assistance. It has our earnest wishes for its continued success; our hearty support of the purposes of the organization, and our co-operation in all of its undertakings. We offer its members now as ever, the strong right hand of our comradeship, which will never relaxed in its grasp of love, respect and sympathy.

In order to carry out these suggestions and recommendations, we recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That the council of administration be instructed to cause a suitable testimonial to be procured and presented to the Commander-in-chief.

Resolved, That the incoming Commander-in-chief and council of administration be authorized to invest $10,000 of the amount now in the hands of the Quartermaster General in state or municipal securities or in first mortgage bonds upon real estate worth not less than three times the amount thus loaned.

Resolved, That the Commander-in-chief be requested to ascertain who are the manufacturers and sellers of spurious badges and to take such steps to secure the suppression of the same as he may deem proper.

Comrade D. R, Austin of Ohio offered as an amendment to the resolution authorizing the investment of the funds of the association in real estate securities, that the amount should be three times the value exclusive of any improvements thereon.

The report and resolution as amended were adopted.

Several of the other standing committees made reports upon the reports of the several encampment officers, approving of the same, which reports were adopted.

The committee on resolutions reported back Comrade Loring's resolution asking that Congress be requested by the encampment to pass the eight dollar pension bill, with the recommendation that it be not adopted. After an extended discussion, the report of the committee was adopted and the resolution lost.

Governors Alger of Michigan, Fairchild of Wisconsin, Robie of Maine, General Robinson, Past Commander-in-chief, and the Hon. Thomas B. Reed of Maine, coming into the room, were called by the boys to the stage, and compelled to do a little speech-making. They responded briefly, and with great feeling and eloquence.

At the opening of the afternoon session a telegram was read from Past Commander-in-chief Earnshaw, extending his greetings to the encampment, and likewise telegrams of greeting from various posts in New York and Michigan.

The committee on resolutions reported adversely upon a resolution requesting the encampment to take action towards securing a pension for mother Bickerdyke for the reason that it was not within the province of the Grand Army to act in the matter. After a long discussion, in which the patriotic services of the old lady were set forth at length, and greatly eulogized, thereport of the committee was rej

THE PRESS.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 26.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or preserve communications that are not used.

Among the prize men at Yale is a Chinese student. As the Record says, he has the "go" to him.

Dennis Kearney, it is said, will run for governor of California on the labor ticket. It is not believed however, that he will run far enough to endanger his health.

The Minneapolis Tribune very cleverly asks how you can expect a Philadelphia paper to publish new jokes when it has its office on Chestnut street.

Mrs. Phelps, wife of our minister to England, has danced with the Prince of Wales, and is reported as wearing superb diamonds. This will furnish a fine text for the "tail twisters" to discourse upon when Congress meets.

We are glad to see Mr. Meade of Copiah, county, Miss., go, but we are sorry to see him going alone. The administration should not be particular in this matter of kicking out bad appointments.

A Colorado miner fired a rifle at a mark on the door of a magazine containing eighteen tons of powder. That tells the story. He saved time and money by not coming east to jump off the bridge.

The large four-masted wooden sailing vessel which is now being built at Camden leads the New York Sun, in speaking of the big ships of the world, to note the fact that the biggest wooden ships are now built in Maine.

Vice President Hendricks, as he passed through New Haven on his way to Harvard told the Yale collegians that a "public office was a public trust," just as if the expression were original with himself, and just as if he believed it all.

Three months ago a man was killed at the point where Old Mexico, New Mexico and Texas joins. His body being in three states, three coroners quarreled over the matter and the skeleton still lies there as a monument to the international boundary line. We do not tell this on our own authority, but a Chicago paper says so and of course it must be so.

The editor of the Atlanta Constitution a few weeks ago declared in the Century that the negro race was booming right along toward perfect equality with his white brethren. Now he admits in the columns of his newspaper that the colored man will hook watermelons, This is either a compliment to the colored man or a confession in behalf of the first families of the South.

The Conservatives have finally made up their minds to go ahead. At first they were determined not to do so unless they received pledges from the Liberals. They evidently changed their minds, for Mr. Gladstone has given them nothing which can be considered a pledge. The most he has done is to give assurance that he will support just legislation; but as the justice of legislation is largely a matter of opinion the Conservatives of course can get no comfort out of this assurance.

Buddensiek is not yet safely landed in the penitentiary, we regret to say. His lawyers are still laboring for his liberty, and a stay of proceedings has been granted by Judge Van Brunt. The modern method of shutting up a villain in the State prison is altogether too slow and not sure enough to compensate for its slowness. Legal procedure is so encumbered with technical forms which must be complied with and the culprit is so hedged about in the name of liberty that the public prosecutor is placed at an immense disadvantage.

The Veterans have come and many of them have gone. If there have been any signs of that drunken carouse which was predicted in some quarters they have escaped public observation. The carloads of liquor that were to roll in along with the Western delegates apparently did not roll in. There have been fully twenty thousand boys in blue in the city, a number equal to more than two-thirds of our entire population, and yet scarcely an intoxicated veteran has been seen. The result has been precisely what the PRESS anticipated last week. While there is no doubt that some people sincerely believed that there was going to be a carnival of drunkenness, there is little doubt also that a good deal of the scare was purposely worked up for booming purposes. Paragraphs complimenting certain officials will soon be set in motion.

EIGHT DOLLARS A MONTH.

The National Department by an overwhelming majority yesterday refused to give its endosement to the proposed bill giving every man who served in the army sixty days during the war of the rebellion and was honorably discharged, $8 a month pension. This project had its origin, we believe, in John A. Andrew Post of Boston and most of the agitation in its favor has come from members of that Post. It was brought before the Massachusetts department last February and defeated, and in the departments of several other New England States it has met the same fate.

The advocates of this measure have contended that it would correct many cases of injustice arising under the present law. That is true. It is doubtless a fact as the friends of this measure say that there are many soldiers deserving a pension who cannot obtain one by reason of inability to furnish evidence on points which the present pension law insist shall be proved, who would obtain part at least of their just dues under such a law as this. But a door as wide as this measure would prove would admit not only these cases of justice, but a very much larger number of cases of injustice. It would be broad enough to let in everybody who remained in the army sixty days and was honorably discharged, no matter what his physical condition was when dischargod or what is his condition today. The country is ready and anxious to make restitution as far as lies in its power to every soldier or sailor who was permanently disabled, no matter in how slight degree, in his country's service. It is inclined to go further and make provision for the support of the soldier who has become poor and needy in his old age, even if his present condition be the result in no degree of his service in the army. But it is unjust and unreasonable to ask, as this bill does, the country to pension every man who served sixty days in the army, no matter whether he was disabled or not, no matter whether today he is rich or in poor circumstances, and it speaks well for the soldier that this scheme of John A. Andrew Post has been defeated by a convention of representative soldiers from all over the land.

There are some features of the present pension laws that need changing. Many, if not all of them, are provided for by the Mexican pension bill, which was before Congress last session, and to the defeat of which the advocates of the eight dollars a month bill contributed something. All the soldiers can fairly ask, we think, and all the majority of them certainly are inclined to ask, is granted in this bill.

A VERY SOUND DEMOCRATIC RULE.
Milford (N. Y.) Dispatch.

If Mr. Cleveland would execute the will and wishes of those who elected him and do his full duty as the chosen representative of the Democratic party, he should place the direction of the affairs of the government entirely in the hands of the Democrats, and should regard the fact thas an office holder is an enemy to the Democratic party as a sufficient excuse of removal and replacement with a sound Democrat. No affipavits or formal charges should be required. "Is he a Republican?" "Yes." "That's enough; off with his head!"

An Ancient Volume.

Probably the oldest book in Maine is one owned by Mr. Roscoe G. Smith of Cornish. The cover and fly leaves of the book have evidently been placed upon the book in recent years, for they are much less yellowed, dog-eared and dusty than the title page and the coarsely printed pages of Latin verse with its fanciful paragraph vignettes and quaint styles of type which are found between the covers. The title page of the book shows that it was printed in Witenberg in 1539, which makes it 346 years old. The words "Typis Ioannis," are appended to the date and place. The title of the book is "Incantica Canticorum brevis, sed admodum dilucida enaratio D. Martini Luther." The book is of 153 pages. The most curious feature of this quaint volume is an appendix of manuscript notes. The MS. is in a crooked German script, looking more like the modern hen-tracks of a stenographer than the copperplate of a German student or teacher of even three hundred and fifty years ago. It covers three pages of the fly leaves, and is crossed and recrossed with additions. The original owner of the book, from whom Mr. Smith secured it in London, said that competent judges believed this MS. to have been Luther's own writing, and that the book was once his personal property. The oldest book known to exist is Gutenberg's "Psalter," printed by him in 1461, of which three copies are known to exist. The oldest book in America is said to be known as "Doctrina," and to be the work of Cumeregua, and owned in the library of the late Emperor Maximillian of Mexico. Mr. Smith obtained the book described above from A. L. Luyston of London. Mr. Smith is an nthusiastic collector of old books, and has made many valuable contributions to the libraries of York county. He holds this relic of the days of Luther at a high value and proposes some time to contribute it to a Maine library.

Frightful Case of a Colored Man.

I contracted a fearful case of blood poison in 1883. I was treated by some of the best physicians in Atlanta. They used the old remedies of Mercury and Potash, which brought on rheumatism and impaired my digestive organs. Every joint in me was swollen and full of pain. When I was given up to die, my physicians thought it would be a good time to test the virtues of Swift's Specific. When I commenced taking S. S. S. the physician said I could not live two weeks under the ordinary treatment. He commenced to give me the medicine strictly according to directions, which I continued for several months. I took nothing else, and commenced to improve from the very first. Soon the rheumatism left me, my appetite became all right, and the ulcers, which the doctor said were the most frightful he had ever seen, began to heal, and by the first of October, 1884, I was a well man again. I am stronger now than I ever was before, and weigh more. S. S. S. has saved me from an early grave.

Solid Facts
WORKINGMEN

Special attention is called to the fact that all our goods are manufactured by the mechanics of New England, not "out West" as most of our competitors advertise theirs are. We believe in patronizing our own mechanics, who, we think and know, are fully competent to make good work as the much talked of skilled mechanics of the West. Therefore our motto is, "To live and give our New England mechanics a chance to live also," or in other words leave our money with those from whom we get it.

Our goods are new and fresh in design, and of "honest" workmanship, and an examination of our immense stock by early buyers we feel sure will convince them that it will be for their interest to purchase now.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Professor of Systematic Theology—"You may pass on to the Future Life." Student—"Not prepared."

The American Eagle.

See the image of this bird on the standard silver dollar. He spreads his wings and seems as if about to scream with wild delight. Such enthusiasm may well possess the people who have been cured of chronic indigestion by using Brown's Iron Bitters. Mr. Thomas J. Purcell, yard master of Camden station of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, at Baltimore, writes, "There is nothing as good as Brown's Iron Bitters. It cured me of chronic indigestion, from which I suffered thirteen years."

The autumn novelty in London is expected to be the debut of a Bombay tragedian named Bhagwandas Bhowanidas Bhaugsah. The tragedy will consist in the attempt to pronounce his name.

"There is nothing like Dr. Thomas's Eclectric Oil to quickly cure or relieve hoarseness." Written by Mrs. M. J. Fellows, Burr Oak, St. Joseph Co., Mich.

Gilhooly went to an Austin doctor for advice. "What is the matter with you?' "I am as hungry as a wolf. I work like a horse, but I can't sleep." "I guess you had better see a veterinary surgeon," said the doctor sarcastically. "What do I want to see him for? I am no veterinary."

Rev H. C. Munson presided and made the opening address of welcome to the soldiers, referring to the battle against intemperance still to be fought for the preservation of the union.

Col. E. C. Farrington spoke of temperance work here and elsewhere and quoted Grant's famous dispatch "We shall fight it out on this line if it takes all summer." He said that the temperance work is to be prosecuted on the same line as before.

Rev. Dr. Bashford followed and mentioned the comment made upon the action of the temperance meeting, recently held in Reception Hall in regard to the encampment. He disclaimed any belief on the part of the meeting that the Grand Army men intended the violation of thelaw. The meeting wts intended to protest all persons against law breakers.

Remarks were then made by Hon. J. C. Chilicote, Ellsworth; Mrs. L. C. Partington, of Pennsylvania; Mr. Cobb, of Togus; Mrs. Howe, of New Hampshire, and Wm. H. Kempton.

Pocket Picking.

On the trains home to Lewiston and Auburn Tuesday night several men discovered that their pockets had been picked. One Lewiston man lost a cheap silver watch. Dr. Wentworth, of Auburn, had his pocket picked of a small purse containing about $10 in bills and silver. An Auburn lawyer says that he took ten dollars in one of his trousers pockets, and a piece of tobacco in the other. and borrowed his boy's Blue Store Waterbury watch, and locked his regular Sunday ticker in the office safe, and enjoyed the day and crowds, careless and free. If a thief took out the Waterbury, he replaced it

Accidents.

A horse attached to a carriage and anchored by a hitch weight, broke away from his weight and ran down Congress street yesterday afternoon. He separated himself from the carriage and near Bell's shoe store took to the sidewalk. Near Frye's apothecary store he struck Mr. Leroy S. Sanborn, chief of the newspaper and package department in the post office, and knocked him down. Mr. Sanborn was taken into Dr. H. P. Merrill's in an unconscious state and thence home. Dr. Merrill reported later that he appeared to be better but how seriously he was hurt he could not tell at that time. He didn't think the blows on the breast and back were serious, and hoped Mr. Sanborn had not experienced a fracture at the base of the brain.

Burglary in Deering.

Wednesday, a thief adroitly entered the Longfellow house occupied by W. H. Johnson, by a window, cutting the door sash so as to turn the fastener with a knife. He took pocket books from the trouser pockets of two men who occupied a lower room and took a hat belonging to another. The theft took place after midnight. There were eight men sleeping in the house at the time besides the rest of the family. The evidences were that the rascal secreted himself in a thicket close to the house and found the location of the rooms while the occupants were retiring.

Amusements.

Last night Bennett and Moulton's company gave an excellent performance of the "Chimes of Normandy" at Portland Theatre. To-night the "Pirates of Penzance" will be given.

At the Bijou Theatre Weeks' Ideal Company will again give "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The Forest City Pavilion draws large and enthusiastic audiences every evening commencing at 7.30 o'clock.

The Press Serenaded.

Last evening the Mexican War Veterans Drum Corps, with R. B. Hendersbot, the Drummer Boy of the Rappahannock, serenaded the PRESS office, and Hendershot showed that his reputation as a drummer is deserved.

PEAKS' ISLAND.

The Theatres, Rinks, Roller Coaster and Other Attractions.

The past week at this island has been a gala one, and the thousands of visitors who have been passing to and fro, the extra trips of the island steamers and the various amusements gave to the island people an exciting experience. The delegations of the Grand Army, who had been assigned to quarters there, commenced to arrive Tuesday and the bands accompanying them have given delightful concerts.

Greenwood Garden has been crowded with visitors, its manifold attractions inducing the people to attend. Capt. Knowlton has been running the splendid steamer Wiwurna in connection with the S. E. Spring, and the boats have carried a large number of passengers. The Wiwurna is a magnificent boat, and has rapidly won favor. A fine entertainment is given in the theatre, Musical Dale and the Royal Marionettes being alone worth the price of admission. Prof. Burnham the burlesque skater, gives a fine exhibition in the rink.

The Forest City line of steamers have been tested to their full capacity, and have had to make extra trips to accommodate the travel. The Forest City Rink has had a large attendance, while the opera of "Ixion," at the theatre has drawn large houses. The cars for the roller coaster have arrived, and many persons enjoyed the swift ride down hill on the coaster. It will prove a great attraction. The electric lights are in operation, and large crowds go down in the evening.

The Star line has had the steamer Pioneer running in connection with the Cadet, and these steamers have received their share of patronage.

Many boarders are arriving at the hotels for the season, and everything is lively.

The Nebraska people are still at the Peaks Island House, and a number of Dahlgren Post are at the Union House.

Winsor B. Smith.

His old comrades of the 1st Maine Cavalry, together with his many friends in the city and State, will hear with deep pain of the death of Comrade Winsor B. Smith, the sad event taking place yesterday morning. Mr. Smith had but just become convalescent from a serious lung attack, but he had long suffered from other troubles and on the day of the]parade said he couldn't live but a few days anyway and meant to parade with the "boys" in the great procession of Tuesday last, if it killed him. He did parade and he has passed away.

Winsor B. Smith was one of the bravest of the brave 1st Maine. He was born at Bridgton in 1842, and enlisted in the 1st Maine Cavalry, Co. K., August 22, 1862, at the age of 20 years, and was honorably discharged August 1st, 1865, with the rank of Quarter-Master Sergeant of the same regiment. He smelt powder in seventeen battles, viz: Rappahannock Station, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Old Church, Todd's Tavern, Grand Squirrel Church, Hawes's Shop, Coal Harbor, Trevelyan Station, Mary's Church, Deep Bottom, Ream's Station, Wyatt's Farm, Sulphur Springs, Mine Run and Richmond Fortifications. He was taken prisoner at Southeastern Railroad Station Sept. 29, 1864, and was confined in Stone Jail, Petersburg; Libby; Libby's Sister; Pemberton at Richmond, and Salisbury Stockade, and was paroled Marth 5th, 1865.

Mr. Smith was a gilder by trade, and worked several years with Fred F. Hale, but the confinement was too much for him, and he afterwards became a member of the firm of W. H. Pennell & Co., and later that of Smith & Abbott. He was a prominent worker in Bosworth Post No. 2, and had been Department Commander of Maine, and he was of excellent executive capacity. He was a true friend and leaves hosts of them to mourn his loss. A resolution on his death was introduced in the National Encampment meeting by Department Commander Hall of Maine yesterday. He was also a member of the order of Knights of Pythias.

SUBURBAN NOTES.

BOWERY BEACH.

Mr. Wm. Murray, who within a few months past has lost two valuable Jersey cows, is again the victim of a similar misfortune, in the unaccountable sickness and death of a handsome Jersey heifer. Sumner Dyer, Mr. Murray's next door neighbor, also had one of his young animals die the same day.

The continued dry weather has so parched vegetation at the Cape, as to make the farmers appreensive of a short strawberry crop, and many of them are carting water to moisten the vines.

At Greenwood Garden.

To-day is a great gala day at Greenwood Garden, Peaks' Island. The attractions of the Garden will be enhanced by day fire works, sub-marine explosions and balloon ascensions, which will afford amusement to the young and old, the army man and civilian alike. The steamers leave the foot of Exchange street every half hour.

Portland and Ogdensburg.

The bill prepared in behalf of the trustees under the mortgage of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad company of Nov. 1, 1871, to enable, so far as New Hampshire is concerned, the bondholders to organize a corporation and receive possession of the railroad from the trustees, was introduced into the legislature of New Hampshire last week, and referred to the railroad committee. The Boston and Lowell railroad company has appeared to oppose the bill; but has offered to withdraw opposition, if the friends of the bill will agree that the road shall not be extended west of Fabyan's. This seems to be a pure piece of unjustifiable hostility and interference, to which of course, the friends of the bill cannot submit. It is believed the committee will report the bill.

had their staff along with them, and altogether it was a very numerous and happy crowd that waved their handkerchiefs as the Cimbria began to distance the E. P. Shaw. But they had eaten no dinner, and were too hungry to watch the Shaw's inglorious race with a slow tug boat, so they crowded down into the saloon, where there were about a bushel of crackers, the size of pie plates, and a cheese that would perhaps go inside the bass drum on the upper deck. But the Vermont women knew how to cut a cheese, and the rest had an idea of what the cheese was there for. When the crackers seemed too dry, there was pop beer to help them along, and the lunch went on merrily until cheese, crackers and beer had gone out of sight. Meanwhile the steamer, with now and then a halt to let the Shaw catch up in order that her people might hear the band, had gone around House Island, and was headed along Falmouth Foreside. At 5 o'clock, as all hands had settled down to enjoy themselves, they rounded Great Chebeague, and the return trip began, It was 6 o'clock when Portland was reached, and the guests of the Maine ladies left the boat, delighted with Casco Bay and the accommodations of the steamer Cimbria.

During the trip, Mrs. Whitman Sawyer, president of the Maine State Relief Corps, received as a present a volume of Mrs. Sherwood's poems, the gift of Mrs. Leila P. Roby of Chicago.

The excursion to the White Mountains, via the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad, was patronized by a large number of Grand Army members, both ladies and gentlemen. It was informal.

Notes.

When the Connecticut drum corps, with the double drummers, left the city yesterday morning for home, they were preceded by a boy in Zouave dress, leading a goat whose horns were decked with flags and wearing a blanket inscribed "Portland 1885, California 1886."

The comrade who sells Grand Army medals and badges in the corner of City Hall was the guard over the remains of Garfield.

Gov. Robie and staff and Gov. Alger of Michigan and staff held a brilliant reception at the Falmouth Hotel last evening.

BASE BALL.

TODAY'S GAME.

The Biddefords play here this afternoon. Game will be called at 3.30. Watson and Wheelock will be the Portland battery. An interesting game is looked for.

LAWRENCE 2; PORTLANDS 1.

Yesterday morning the Portlands played a nearly perfect game with the Lawrences. Neither side scored until the third inning, when Munce got the Portlands their only run, and one run was let in for Lawrence. After this until the twelfth inning the score stood 1 to 1, the playing of both nines being nearly faultless. In the twelfth inning, however, a fumble by Shaw let in another run for Lawrence, and the game was settled. The score:

PORTLANDS 13, LAWRENCES 1.

After the magnificent exhibition of the forenoon great things were expected of the boys, and well did they realize the anticipations. In the second inning they commenced to bat, and hit followed hit until five men crossed the plate. From the first they played a model game, batting clean and hard and fielding sharply.

For Lawrence, Hassett's batting and Fish's fielding were noticeable. Weidel and Oxley gave the best exhibition of battery work yet seen on the grounds. Fulmer played his usual fine game at second, and Shaw made some remarkable stops. Every one of the boys deserve praise for their work.

All Tired Out.

The mild weather, following our long and severe winter, has such a depressing effect upon the body that one feels all tired out, almost completely prostrated, the appetite is lost, and there is no ambition to do anything. The whole tendency of the system is downward. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It purifies the blood, sharpens the appetite, overcomes the tired feeling and invigorates every function of the body.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla in four weeks made me a new man. My head ceased to ache, and my whole system is built up anew, enjoying perfect health." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank St., N. Y. City.

"We all like Hood's Sarsaparilla, it is so strengthening." LIZZIE BALFOUR, Auburn, P. Q.

"I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for general debility there is, and for the good it has done me I cheerfully recommend it." J. SULLIVAN, 39 Brown St., Rochester, N. Y.
